

Preparing world class citizens

To prepare world class citizens, the South Colonie School District combines clear academic goals with a talented and imaginative staff, good community participation and a wide assortment of opportunities for children.

Formed in 1949, there more than 40,000 people living within the district's thirty-six square mile radius with approximately 5,800 students enrolled.

The district has 5 elementary schools (K-4), two middle schools (grades 5-8) and a high school (grades 9-12).
